

Transit Priority on Gottingen Street

What is Going to Change?

The addition of a transit priority lane for northbound buses on Gottingen Street will change how the street functions.

The bus lane will only be in effect during weekday morning and afternoon peak periods (7-9AM and 3-6 PM) in the northbound curb lane. Outside of these times, the lane will be available for parking and loading activities. No stopping will be permitted in the southbound curb lane at any time due to the required lane markings.

The conceptual sketches below illustrate how Gottingen Street will function during peak and off-peak periods.

During peak periods (Weekdays, 7-9AM and 3-6PM):

- The northbound curb lane will be dedicated to buses.
- Parking and loading will be prohibited in the southbound curb lane at all times.

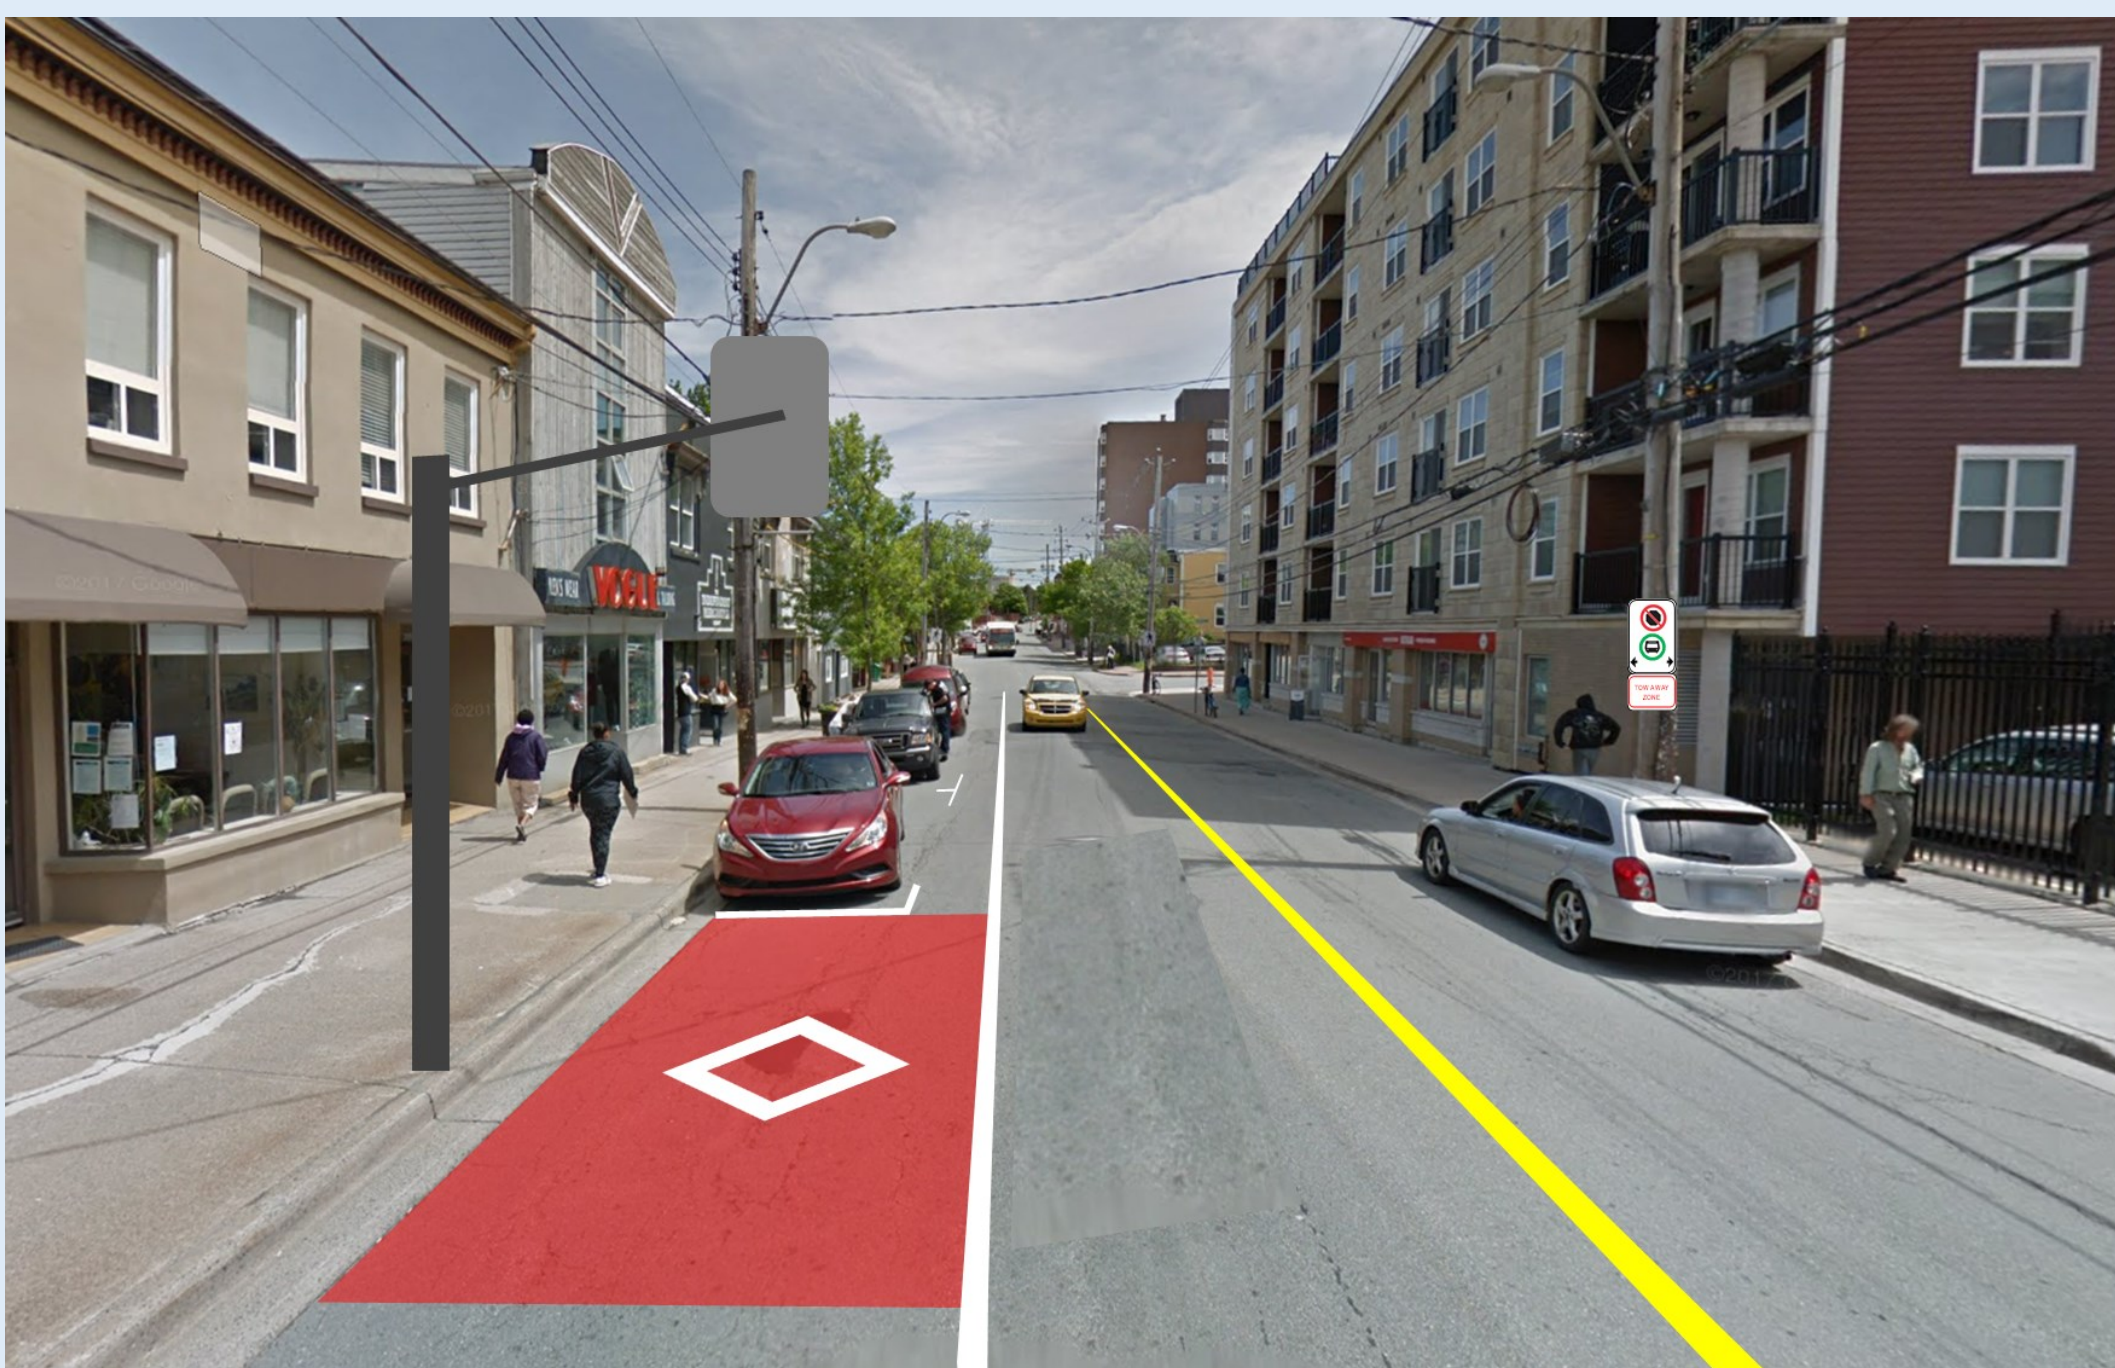

Looking to the south from just south of Cornwallis Street

Looking north toward Cunard Street

During off-peak periods (Weekdays before 7AM, 9AM - 3PM, after 6PM; all-day on weekends):

- The northbound curb lane will be designated for on-street parking and loading.
- Parking and loading will be prohibited in the southbound curb lane at all times.

Looking south toward Falkland Street

Looking north near Falkland Street